If you got mostly As, you're most likely an extrovert. You're outgoing and talkative, and you usually find it easy to stand up for yourself and others.

If you got mostly Bs, you're most likely an introvert. You prefer to observe situations and think things through before acting upon them.

If you got a mix of As and Bs, you're probably a little of both! You might feel more comfortable acting a certain way in different situations, and that's completely okay.
