

where do stories live?

Stories live all around us and within us! In the book, Avni and Isha are looking for stories in nature, objects, families, and cultures.

Where do you look for stories?

Draw or write some of the places where you look for stories. Maybe you look for stories under a rock, in your favorite food, or in a photo of your family or friends.

where do stories live?

What is your favorite way to tell stories?

There are so many ways to tell stories! Avni likes to tell stories through drawing and writing. Isha and Pancake like to tell stories through dancing.

Circle your favorite way to tell stories or add your own ideas! You can pick as many as you'd like.

DRAWING SIGNING ACTING SPEAKING

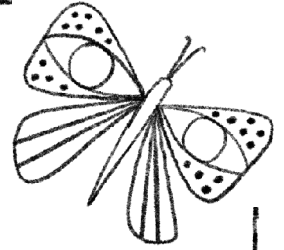

WRITING DANCING SINGING

(WRITE YOUR IDEA HERE)

What stories live in you?

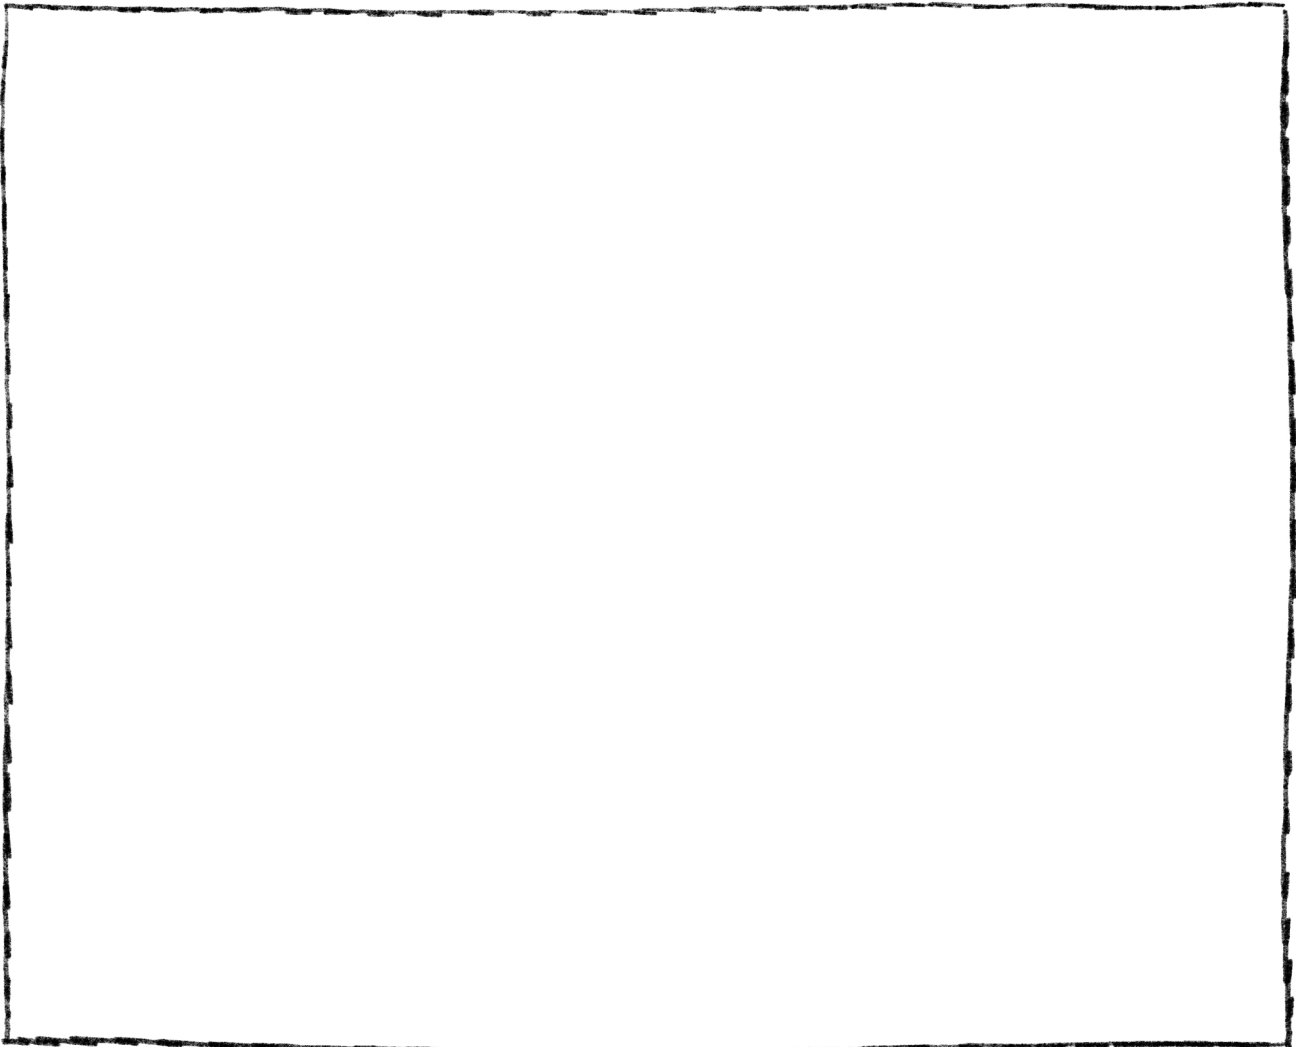

Tell a story about your day using one or more of the ways you circled above. Use the back of this paper if you need more space.

where do stories live?

On their way to Masi's (auntie's) house, Avni and Isha find the story of the lifecycle of a butterfly in a field of flowers.

- 1. Draw a flower or field of flowers where a butterfly can land.
- 2. Draw a butterfly.
- 3. Use shapes, lines, and colors to make a pattern on the butterfly wings.

What stories do you think live in the patterns of a butterfly wing, in a cocoon, or in a flower?